I know every bullet hit it. Most of the rounds hit next to a window on the center of it. They just whimmed off into the sky or who knows. You could hear them hit above the noise the thing was making. I wouldn't have shot it, but I had a funny feeling someone was after me. Maybe if I hadn't of fired we could have got to communicate. I think they knew they scared me, because they left too, when I run back to my car and took off again — this was 4th time I stopped and took off. This time they passed me — cut across in front and climbed @ 40,000 FT N. departing at 3 O'clock position. THE TRUTH

I qualify this point as an outstanding pilot! I've been called that.

35. Information which you feel pertinent and which is not adequately covered in the specific points of the questionnaire or a narrative explanation of your sighting.

Perhaps this form in this magazine inspired me to go ahead and make my report. I've often started to report it, and then figured you had enough without my remarks.

I can add one thing, and "swear to God its true" — Everything in this report is true and correct. The machine I saw came from outer-space in my opinion. I wouldn't chase one in a Crusader or F105 if I had it to do over. My 45 cal. bullets flew off of those windows with sparks if that means anything.

I don't know who is reading this, but I know it sounds funny only if you never seen one of these things. They do exist, and they are faster than heck. I am sane, and considered a normal person. I consider myself an authority on flying. Our government doesn't have anything like this, and if it's Russian — then lets throw in the towel. I mean it!
