Thought I was buying new

Reviewed in the United States on August 21, 2019

Verified Purchase

When I opened the package I was very disappointed. After careful search...no instructions at all. Then the box of hardware appeared like it had been opened and taped back up again. Then the plate did not line up with the drilled holes in the post and on top of that...there were no screws long enough to mount the plate. I had to use the picture here to make sure I was not missing something.

Just to be able to use this I had to drill a new hole in the plate, go to the hardware store and get bolts long enough. Was faster than dealing with a return and I needed this for a project.

I buy a lot of tech. This was the least favorite purchase

Solid stand

Good sturdy tripod. I use it to hold a 32" tv for karaoke gigs so it gets setup and taken down all the time. Only complaint is all the hinge points to close it up are not very smooth when opening or collapsing the tripod. On comparison to my speaker tripods this thing takes a little brute force to close or open while my speaker stands are very smooth to open or close. I like the orange color due to high visibility for trip hazards. Would recommend.

Garbage product, screw holes don't match up, parts are not here, the bags with tv screws are used, tons of stuff missing.
